

GREAT BRITAIN IN EGYPT.

FRANCE WITHDRAWS HER OPPOSITION TO ENGLAND'S CLAIMS.

Not Yet Known If Lord Salisbury Has Paid to the Large Amount of Her Egyptian Schemes—The Late Prince Lobanoff's Projects Against England and Germany.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN.
LONDON, Oct. 9.—France has withdrawn for the present her opposition to the British occupation of Egypt. This news, which is of the highest importance, has been received from a source which entitles it to full credence, although there will probably be no official confirmation for several weeks.

The announcement the other day that Lord Salisbury had conceded everything France claimed in Tunis, has been received with astonishment and bitter though silent resentment by his own party, and savage denunciation by the opposition press and leaders. To-day's Speaker, for instance, expresses the sentiment of all classes when it says: "The agreement is an unconditional surrender on the part of England, and, as far as the diplomatic game is concerned, it is a defeat for England. It is a triumph for the player who flings away the ace of trumps. This is precisely what Lord Salisbury has done. If the thing had been done by Mr. Gladstone or Lord Rosebery, every Tory newspaper and platform would have rung with denunciations of the traitor."

"It is not by chance that, with the statement of the English surrender in Tunis we have the announcement that France is going to do at Algiers (a Tunisian port) in defiance of the solemn promises made by her when Tunis was occupied. It makes one doubt the honesty even of the most honest when such things happen."

Lord Salisbury can well afford to bide his time under such attacks, when he has, or thinks he has, acquired Egypt in exchange for giving France a free title in Tunis. A little serious thought ought to have convinced even the blindest enemies of the English policy in Tunis, that he would hardly make such a sweeping and important concession without any quid pro quo except a paltry 5 per cent. duty on sugar.

Lord Salisbury has been yielding all along the line since the beginning of the present Ministry, wherever stern pressure was applied, but he has certainly got the best of the present bargain, for it is practically certain that no other power will interfere if France is satisfied.

But there is good reason to believe that this is not all that is happening behind the scenes in the diplomatic world just now. The negotiations which give Tunis to France and Egypt to Great Britain probably include deals of even greater importance to which Russia is a party, as she is indirectly in this African agreement. It is too early to say definitely on this point. Indeed, it is unlikely that anything more has been settled. But it may be said with a fair degree of confidence that England is ready to be far more liberal in dealing with Russia and France in regard to Eastern questions than she was two years ago.

The British Government is fully alive now to the fact that British interests throughout the far East are vitally imperilled, and England is virtually powerless to resist the combination for her undoing which has been prepared among the Continental powers. She is willing now to make the most extensive concessions, and especially to Russia and France, in order to save what she can for herself in that region. There comes, curiously enough just at this time, a highly interesting confirmation of the general plans which Prince Lobanoff entertained for the overthrow of British supremacy, and which I described in THIS CITY at the time of the death of that statesman. The details are supplied to the Vienna correspondent of the Times by a friend of Prince Lobanoff, as follows:

"Prince Lobanoff left certain papers in which he defined his views touching Russia's mission in the world. Among other things, the Prince pointed to England and Germany as two powers from which Russia had most to fear. He believed that in four years, when the Russian railway system in Asia would be completed, there should be no delay in striking a blow at the power of these two nations. He was, in fact, a man of a high order of intellect, and he was not without the aid of the latter such a project could never have formed a part of his calculations."

"On the other hand, an alliance with France affords Russia security against Germany. Prince Lobanoff made light of an Austro-German entente in that he thought it possible that Austria-Hungary might eventually recover her position in Germany, which would seem to indicate that he had in view a rapprochement between the two empires. If this was intended, without the aid of the latter such a project could never have formed a part of his calculations."

"Whether this is a correct outline of Prince Lobanoff's ideas or not, it is certain that the Russian policy was implacably anti-British, and that the Russian Government was not without the aid of the latter such a project could never have formed a part of his calculations."

"The Russian policy was implacably anti-British, and that the Russian Government was not without the aid of the latter such a project could never have formed a part of his calculations."

"The Russian policy was implacably anti-British, and that the Russian Government was not without the aid of the latter such a project could never have formed a part of his calculations."

"The Russian policy was implacably anti-British, and that the Russian Government was not without the aid of the latter such a project could never have formed a part of his calculations."

"The Russian policy was implacably anti-British, and that the Russian Government was not without the aid of the latter such a project could never have formed a part of his calculations."

"The Russian policy was implacably anti-British, and that the Russian Government was not without the aid of the latter such a project could never have formed a part of his calculations."

"The Russian policy was implacably anti-British, and that the Russian Government was not without the aid of the latter such a project could never have formed a part of his calculations."

"The Russian policy was implacably anti-British, and that the Russian Government was not without the aid of the latter such a project could never have formed a part of his calculations."

"The Russian policy was implacably anti-British, and that the Russian Government was not without the aid of the latter such a project could never have formed a part of his calculations."

"The Russian policy was implacably anti-British, and that the Russian Government was not without the aid of the latter such a project could never have formed a part of his calculations."

SENDING OUR IRON TO SCOTLAND.

We Underbid Scotchmen an Iron Pipe to Be Bought by Glasgow.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN.
LONDON, Oct. 9.—Some smart Americans have caught napping some smart Scotchmen, and much consequent bad language has been heard in Glasgow this week. It seems that the Glasgow Committee of the Glasgow Corporation wanted a big supply next year of large cast-iron piping, and tenders were invited in the usual way.

There happens to be a Glasgow ironmaster, not dreaming of American competition, but in pretty stiff prices, as they had successfully done in the past. When the tenders came to be opened it was found that an American firm offered to deliver the pipes for $5 a ton less than the lowest home tender.

Such a tremendous loss has been kicked up at the idea of giving the contract to foreigners that the Glasgow Committee has been practically coerced into postponing a definite decision; but as the acceptance of the American tender means a saving of nearly $5,000 the probability is that the United States will have the honor of supplying the pipes after all.

WAR ON THE CHURCH IN ITALY.

Clerical Demonstrations Against National Institutions to Be Stopped.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN.
ROME, Oct. 9.—The Ministry of the Interior this evening published instructions to the various prefects to repress clerical demonstrations against the institutions of the country and to prevent the holding of political meetings in churches.

GRAVE RESULTS OF THE STRIKE.

Work on Warships and Manufacture of Textile Machinery Stopped.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN.
LONDON, Oct. 9.—The factories at Blackburn engaged in the manufacture of textile machinery have been compelled to stop work, owing to the strike of the engineers. The strike is causing great delay in the construction of warships. No new ships can be launched in the Admiralty dockyards, and material is wanting for the completion of a number of vessels. The battleship Gothland waits her stern and stern posts, and the battleship Ocean requires castings and engine fittings. Most vessels were to have been launched this month, but the strike has rendered this impossible. The battleship Canopus is lying at Portsmouth, waiting for her belt of armor, and the cruisers Furius and Gladiator are both waiting for their engines.

Mr. Siemens of Siemens Brothers & Co., Ltd., speaking in behalf of the Employers' Federation, says that it is desired to get rid of the engineering strike. If this is not done, the engineering trade of the country will go to the wall. He adds that it is impossible for the engineering firms to pay their men wages for fifty-four hours a week when they get only forty-eight hours' work from them.

HARD LOT OF THE STRIKERS.

65,000 Men Now on Strike or Locked Out in England.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN.
LONDON, Oct. 9.—The Executive Committee of the Society of Amalgamated Engineers announces that at 65,000 men are now either on strike or locked out. The sum of £38,000 was disbursed as strike pay to-day.

The committee of the London Trades Council has decided to appeal immediately to all trades societies and workmen's clubs of the metropolis for money to aid the strikers. Street collections will also be made on Oct. 17, on which date a trades union demonstration will be made in Trafalgar square.

CHURCH DILEMMA IN SPAIN.

The Pope Anxious to Settle the Now Famous Excommunication Case.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN.
LONDON, Oct. 9.—The Pope has engaged for a long time on Thursday and Friday upon the already famous Spanish excommunication case, which he is anxious to bring to a amicable conclusion because the Carlists appear to be making party capital out of it with the suspicious peasants of Spain. It has been, meantime, decided that the Archbishop of Valencia was launched not against Señor Reverter personally, but against the Minister of Finance. Señor Reverter being now out of office, he is spiritually all right, while his successor, Señor Puicervey, is in the extremely uncomfortable position of being the avowed foe of the Pope for the acts of his predecessor. As the new Minister is understood to be a devout son of the Church, he must feel his position acutely. Yet, strange to say, he shows no disposition to hurry up and reverse ex revertere the decision in regard to the Church sanctuary, and it is even rumored that the Minister of Finance, and the Cabinet generally, is not disinclined to fight the militant Prince of the Church to the bitter end.

FIGHTING ON THE GREEK BORDER.

Turkish Troops Drive Back Some Greek Bands Who Crossed the Frontier.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN.
CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 9.—Turkish troops have repulsed a number of Greek bands, killing several of their number who had crossed the Greco-Turkish frontier at Diskata. It is believed that these incursions on the part of the Greeks are the result of the renewal of fighting between the Turkish and the National Defense Society (Ethnikos Heteria).

MULLER IS HAVING HIMSELF.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN.

ROTTERDAM, Oct. 9.—Muller, the watchmaker, who surrendered himself to the police, declaring that in obedience to the voice of an unseen person he had murdered his wife and child, producing four human ears from his pockets to prove the truth of his story, has refused to take food for five days, despite the efforts of his keepers to compel him to eat. He is deliberately starving himself to death.

GLASGOW WILL HAVE AN INTERNATIONAL SHOW.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Glasgow, the second city in Great Britain, having decided to hold an International Exhibition in 1901, the citizens have already started preliminary operations and now their intention of beating Chicago's record. The guarantee fund, the city still in its infancy, amounts to $750,000. It is expected that the total, $5,000,000, will be raised within six months.

Mr. Stanley Starts for South Africa.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Mr. Henry M. Stanley, Col. Sanderson, M. P. for North Antrim, and the Duke of Roxburgh were among a party who sailed for the Cape on the liner steamer No man to-day to attend the Balaclava celebrations on the occasion of the opening of the new railroad in that country.

Female Fanny Now Turns Naturally to Clothes.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN.

It can easily be gratified when the most fashionable dress can be had from the splendid stock of T. Kelly, 401 Broadway, New York, at 475 Fulton st., Brooklyn, at lowest cash prices in every town.—Adv.

VICTORIA IN POLITICS.

A RARID TORY AND OPPOSED TO IRISH HOME RULE.

Her Letters to the Queen's Mother. Her Opposition to Gladstone. The Queen's Vehement Denunciation of the Queen's Mother's Truth. Such Priests as Henry Labouchere's Truth.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN.
LONDON, Oct. 9.—It has often been claimed for Victoria that she was the most tactful woman in the last generation. Her belief in truth in the constitution, her long reign, she has made very few mistakes, and until this week no man outside the most court circle could have declared with absolute certainty that she was her Majesty's politics. The mistake she has now made consists in permitting the publication of certain letters addressed by her to Lord Tennyson in the autobiography of the poet just published. These letters show that the Queen is a rabid Tory, and passionately opposed in particular to granting home rule to Ireland. The knowledge now gained throws a strong light upon many hitherto obscure phases of the Queen's life, and it is likely that an investigation of every lover of freedom for Mr. Gladstone, who, we now see, had to contend not only with warring factions but with the strongest court influence and prejudices when he was fighting for justice to Ireland.

"I cannot in this letter allude to politics," wrote the Queen to the poet in 1896, "but I know what your feelings must be." What Tennyson's feelings were may be judged from his reply to the suggestive little note. He wrote: "Since your Majesty touches upon the disastrous policy of the day I may say that I wish I may be in my own grave, beyond sight and hearing, when an English army fires upon the loyalists of Ulster." These same loyalists were at the moment threatening to cut the throats of their Catholic fellow-countrymen and were arming to resist the Home Rule bill which they feared the Queen's Parliament was about to pass. The whole tenor of the correspondence now given to the world seems to justify the suspicion that the Queen had placed herself at the head of the anti-Irish fanatics in England and the Orangemen in Ireland, and there can be little doubt that this fact was the chief reason why the Queen's policy of the day may say that I wish I may be in my own grave, beyond sight and hearing, when an English army fires upon the loyalists of Ulster." These same loyalists were at the moment threatening to cut the throats of their Catholic fellow-countrymen and were arming to resist the Home Rule bill which they feared the Queen's Parliament was about to pass.

"How I wish," wrote her Majesty, "that you could suggest some means of crushing those who are so determined to bring about a scandal and calumny which they invent themselves." That was the royal way of describing the modern journalist in general and newspapers like Truth in particular. With this knowledge of the Queen's feelings, it is not difficult to see why she should have refused to allow Mr. Gladstone to take into his Cabinet the actual editor and proprietor of one of those "horrible publications."

HER DOG LICKED HER FACE.

A Young French Woman Dies of Rabies, Though the Dog Was Not Bitten.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN.
LONDON, Oct. 9.—There is a startling warning in the fate of the Paris young woman who died of hydrophobia yesterday. She was not bitten, but allowed a pet dog which was ill to lick her face.

Sancti, a bull terrier, had a bull terrier, Bob, of which she was very fond. Bob, two months ago, fell ill. His mistress nursed and caressed him and he showed his gratitude by licking her hands and face. He then ran from her and howled if she went near him. The brute may have felt an irresistible desire to bite and so he refused to let her touch him. He grew worse and bit three men some days ago. They went to the Pasteur Institute and he attempted to bite, fell ill last week though the dog's teeth had not pierced her shoe. Fever, death, and rabies were the result. When her mother went to kiss her she cried: "You must not. I only kissed Bob and, see, I have his diaphragm." Finally she died in convulsions.

LETTER FROM EMPEROR WILLIAM.

He Assures the Sultan of Turkey of His Sincere Friendship.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN.
FRANKFURT, Oct. 9.—The Emperor of Germany has just received a letter from the Sultan of Turkey, in which the Sultan expressed his sincere friendship for the Emperor. The letter was received by the Emperor, and he is believed to have replied to it. The letter was received by the Emperor, and he is believed to have replied to it.

CECIL RHODES'S ILLNESS.

It Has an Unfavorable Effect on Mr. Rhodes's Health.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN.
LONDON, Oct. 9.—Kaffirs were depressed on the Stock Exchange to-day upon the strength of the report of Cecil Rhodes's serious illness at Inyanza. The securities of the Chartered Company were down 3-16, and all of the Rhodesian shares were weak.

CAP. TOWNS, Oct. 9.—Friends of Mr. Cecil Rhodes, who is reported to be seriously ill at Inyanza, declare that that place is notoriously afflicted with dysentery, but assert that Mr. Rhodes has passed the dangerous stage of his disease and is recovering.

ITALY'S POOR ARMY.

The Men Are All Right, but the Officers and Equipment Are Poor.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN.
LONDON, Oct. 9.—The Italian army is reported to be in a state of disrepair. The men are all right, but the officers and equipment are poor. The Italian army is reported to be in a state of disrepair. The men are all right, but the officers and equipment are poor.

NECRO POSTMASTER GIVES UP.

Smith of Hagerstown, Wis., Tells the Whites That He Won't Keep the Office.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 9.—Charles J. Smith, a negro, was appointed Postmaster at Hagerstown, Wis., a fourth-class office in Rock Springs district of Claiborne county, Miss. The appointment gave so much dissatisfaction to the people of the neighborhood and patrons of the Hagerstown Post office that a public meeting was held there yesterday to express their views concerning the matter. Resolutions were adopted protesting against Smith's appointment on the grounds that he was a negro and that the interests of the people of that locality and the district were being sacrificed to the interests of the Post office.

NEW ORLEANS POSTMASTER GIVES UP.

Smith of Hagerstown, Wis., Tells the Whites That He Won't Keep the Office.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 9.—Charles J. Smith, a negro, was appointed Postmaster at Hagerstown, Wis., a fourth-class office in Rock Springs district of Claiborne county, Miss. The appointment gave so much dissatisfaction to the people of the neighborhood and patrons of the Hagerstown Post office that a public meeting was held there yesterday to express their views concerning the matter. Resolutions were adopted protesting against Smith's appointment on the grounds that he was a negro and that the interests of the people of that locality and the district were being sacrificed to the interests of the Post office.

Millionaire Bradbury Fined Again.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 9.—William E. Bradbury, the millionaire who was fined heavily last time for violating the anti-splitting ordinance, was fined $100 to-day for kicking a French piano tuner down stairs. Bradbury gave notice of appeal.

Pennsylvania Railroad.

Announces that Commencing October 1st, it is stopping car service in its Philadelphia division.

Announces that commencing October 1st, it is stopping car service in its Philadelphia division. The Philadelphia division is stopping car service. The Philadelphia division is stopping car service. The Philadelphia division is stopping car service.

BIG CAVE IN ONONDAGA COUNTY.

Explorers Descend 100 Feet Into Capacious Chambers with Stalactite Ceilings.

SYRACUSE, Oct. 9.—The limestone formation of Onondaga county has been known for years to abound in fissures and small caves, but to-day a cavern that is believed to be of great extent was discovered in the town of Lafayette, a few miles from this city. Several years ago a farm laborer, while raking hay in a field on the historic Danforth farm, just outside of Lafayette village, fell with his horse into a pit about twelve feet deep by the side of a road. The horse was killed, and the farmer, to indicate simply the presence of a wash-out caused by the spring rains, but recently some of the more curious residents of the place planned explorations.

To-day two men with picks and shovels removed the surface earth and found the opening of what is believed to be a system of great extent. By means of ropes they descended nearly vertically for more than a hundred feet through a very rough and jagged passage, with plenty of room for two or three men to pass abreast. On the way through this tortuous passage they saw and heard all sorts of things, and with stalactite ceilings. At the bottom of the shaft are many openings, through which the vaulted roofs of capacious chambers are visible. These chambers are hung with stalactites of pearly whiteness.

A brisk current of air at all times passes through the chambers, and the stalactites are extinguished lighted candles. The explorers found it necessary to use lanterns that shielded the flame from the draught. This is thought to indicate that the cave is of great extent.

A similar but smaller cave was discovered several years ago near Jameville. It was explored for some time, but it was not so extensive, as these overhanging rocks frightened away the explorers. The local geological society will investigate the cave fully.

CRUELTY IN AN ORPHAN HOME.

Two Girls Locked in a Pig Pen for 48 Hours and Fed on Bread and Water.

POUGHKEEPSIE, Oct. 9.—Charges of cruelty are made in connection with the management of the De Peyster Home for Orphan Girls, an institution conducted by a Methodist society at Tarrytown, N. Y. The charges are that the girls are kept in a state of starvation, and that the girls are kept in a state of starvation, and that the girls are kept in a state of starvation.

Several days ago it was noted around the village that the girls were kept in a state of starvation, and that the girls are kept in a state of starvation, and that the girls are kept in a state of starvation.

Several days ago it was noted around the village that the girls were kept in a state of starvation, and that the girls are kept in a state of starvation, and that the girls are kept in a state of starvation.

Several days ago it was noted around the village that the girls were kept in a state of starvation, and that the girls are kept in a state of starvation, and that the girls are kept in a state of starvation.

Several days ago it was noted around the village that the girls were kept in a state of starvation, and that the girls are kept in a state of starvation, and that the girls are kept in a state of starvation.

Several days ago it was noted around the village that the girls were kept in a state of starvation, and that the girls are kept in a state of starvation, and that the girls are kept in a state of starvation.

Several days ago it was noted around the village that the girls were kept in a state of starvation, and that the girls are kept in a state of starvation, and that the girls are kept in a state of starvation.

Several days ago it was noted around the village that the girls were kept in a state of starvation, and that the girls are kept in a state of starvation, and that the girls are kept in a state of starvation.

Several days ago it was noted around the village that the girls were kept in a state of starvation, and that the girls are kept in a state of starvation, and that the girls are kept in a state of starvation.

Several days ago it was noted around the village that the girls were kept in a state of starvation, and that the girls are kept in a state of starvation, and that the girls are kept in a state of starvation.

Several days ago it was noted around the village that the girls were kept in a state of starvation, and that the girls are kept in a state of starvation, and that the girls are kept in a state of starvation.

Several days ago it was noted around the village that the girls were kept in a state of starvation, and that the girls are kept in a state of starvation, and that the girls are kept in a state of starvation.

Several days ago it was noted around the village that the girls were kept in a state of starvation, and that the girls are kept in a state of starvation, and that the girls are kept in a state of starvation.

WARING UP WITH GEORGE.

NAMED FOR COMPTROLLER ON THE SOCIAL REVOLUTION TICKET.

The Street Cleaner Said to Have Promised to Accept To-day—He Will Have His Friend Pitch to Him—James O'Neill for President of the Council—The Deal Completed.

For Mayor—HENRY GEORGE.
For Comptroller—GEORGE E. WARRING, Jr.
For President of the Council—JAMES O'NEILL.
Thus the Henry George man completed their city ticket yesterday. Having already endorsed the City's tickets for this county and its boroughs and the McLaughlin local ticket in Brooklyn, they made the job complete by endorsing the regular Democratic tickets in Queens and Richmond. By the terms of the agreement with the City, any candidates submitted by the City for those already nominated will be accepted by the George folks. Col. Warring's nomination was made to catch the votes of everybody who has been benefited by clean streets. O'Neill is Financial Secretary of the Central Labor Union and President of the Papermakers' Union.

Mr. George was not around yesterday. It was learned from Henry George, Jr., that his father was perfectly satisfied with the ticket from top to bottom. This news reached the people in the corridors of the Union Square Hotel about five o'clock yesterday afternoon. When it was circulated there was language used only a little less strong than that used by the Simon-pure Georgists when they heard of the deal with the Citizens' Union people on Friday night. It was commonly reported that Tom Johnson had engineered the deal with a view of extending his street railroad lines in Brooklyn and getting a chance to build more lines in this county.

It was not possible to see Col. Warring yesterday, but Willis J. Abbott, Chairman of the George Campaign Committee, said last night that he had received positive assurances from Col. Warring that he would formally accept the nomination to-day.

The Democratic members of the Citizens' Union, who are the friends of Henry George, met at the headquarters of the Citizens' Union yesterday to see what they should do about supporting the George ticket. The crowd was divided. Some were supporting the George ticket, and others the sending of a committee to the George Campaign Committee to demand the resignation of the City's ticket. It was finally decided to support Henry George, Col. Warring and James O'Neill.

The United Democracy has decided to keep its own ticket in the field, with Henry George as Mayor, and James O'Neill as Comptroller. The Citizens' Union, having nominated the only out-and-out Bryan ticket in the county, has decided to support the regular Democratic ticket. Francis M. Bixby said that he supposed the would vote for Henry George, but he would not be blamed for working for him.

The Citizens' Union has decided to keep its own ticket in the field, with Henry George as Mayor, and James O'Neill as Comptroller. The Citizens' Union, having nominated the only out-and-out Bryan ticket in the county, has decided to support the regular Democratic ticket. Francis M. Bixby said that he supposed the would vote for Henry George, but he would not be blamed for working for him.

The Citizens' Union has decided to keep its own ticket in the field, with Henry George as Mayor, and James O'Neill as Comptroller. The Citizens' Union, having nominated the only out-and-out Bryan ticket in the county, has decided to support the regular Democratic ticket. Francis M. Bixby said that he supposed the would vote for Henry George, but he would not be blamed for working for him.

The Citizens' Union has decided to keep its own ticket in the field, with Henry George as Mayor, and James O'Neill as Comptroller. The Citizens' Union, having nominated the only out-and-out Bryan ticket in the county, has decided to support the regular Democratic ticket. Francis M. Bixby said that he supposed the would vote for Henry George, but he would not be blamed for working for him.

The Citizens' Union has decided to keep its own ticket in the field, with Henry George as Mayor, and James O'Neill as Comptroller. The Citizens' Union, having nominated the only out-and-out Bryan ticket in the county, has decided to support the regular Democratic ticket. Francis M. Bixby said that he supposed the would vote for Henry George, but he would not be blamed for working for him.

The Citizens' Union has decided to keep its own ticket in the field, with Henry George as Mayor, and James O'Neill as Comptroller. The Citizens' Union, having nominated the only out-and-out Bryan ticket in the county, has decided to support the regular Democratic ticket. Francis M. Bixby said that he supposed the would vote for Henry George, but he would not be blamed for working for him.

The Citizens' Union has decided to keep its own ticket in the field, with Henry George as Mayor, and James O'Neill as Comptroller. The Citizens' Union, having nominated the only out-and-out Bryan ticket in the county, has decided to support the regular Democratic ticket. Francis M. Bixby said that he supposed the would vote for Henry George, but he would not be blamed for working for him.

The Citizens' Union has decided to keep its own ticket in the field, with Henry George as Mayor, and James O'Neill as Comptroller. The Citizens' Union, having nominated the only out-and-out Bryan ticket in the county, has decided to support the regular Democratic ticket. Francis M. Bixby said that he supposed the would vote for Henry George, but he would not be blamed for working for him.

The Citizens' Union has decided to keep its own ticket in the field, with Henry George as Mayor, and James O'Neill as Comptroller. The Citizens' Union, having nominated the only out-and-out Bryan ticket in the county, has decided to support the regular Democratic ticket. Francis M. Bixby said that he supposed the would vote for Henry George, but he would not be blamed for working for him.

The Citizens' Union has decided to keep its own ticket in the field, with Henry George as Mayor, and James O'Neill as Comptroller. The Citizens' Union, having nominated the only out-and-out Bryan ticket in the county, has decided to support the regular Democratic ticket. Francis M. Bixby said that he supposed the would vote for Henry George, but he would not be blamed for working for him.

The Citizens' Union has decided to keep its own ticket in the field, with Henry George as Mayor, and James O'Neill as Comptroller. The Citizens' Union, having nominated the only out-and-out Bryan ticket in the county, has decided to support the regular Democratic ticket. Francis M. Bixby said that he supposed the would vote for Henry George, but he would not be blamed for working for him.

The Citizens' Union has decided to keep its own ticket in the field, with Henry George as Mayor, and James O'Neill as Comptroller. The Citizens' Union, having nominated the only out-and-out Bryan ticket in the county, has decided to support the regular Democratic ticket. Francis M. Bixby said that he supposed the would vote for Henry George, but he would not be blamed for working for him.

The Citizens' Union has decided to keep its own ticket in the field, with Henry George as Mayor, and James O'Neill as Comptroller. The Citizens' Union, having nominated the only out-and-out Bryan ticket in the county, has decided to support the regular Democratic ticket. Francis M. Bixby said that he supposed the would vote for Henry George, but he would not be blamed for working for him.

GEN. WEYLER RECALLED.

The Spanish Cabinet Signs His Recall and the Appointment of Gen. Blanco.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN.
MADRID, Oct. 9.—The Cabinet this evening signed the recall of Gen. Weyler from Cuba and the appointment of Gen. Blanco as Captain-General in his stead.

Gen. Primo de Rivera, Captain-General of the Philippine Islands, has tendered his resignation to the Government, and it has been accepted. It is said that Gen. Martinez Campos will succeed him.

CITS LEAGUED WITH TAMMANY.

The Union's Assembly Nominations Admittedly in the Interest of the Wigwam.

A Republican, high in financial circles and a close friend of President McKinley, Senator Platt, and Seth Low, met a well-known member of the Citizens' Union yesterday and asked him how he could defend the present position of Mr. Low and his associates, adding that he thought that every principle of honesty in politics and finance bound all Republicans to stand with the Republican organization at this time. The Low man replied that he was not a Republican, and that he was not a member of the Citizens' Union, and that he was not a member of the Citizens' Union.

The reply to this was: "Why, it is necessary, of course, for us to control the Legislature." The Republican then asked the Low man if this was not going into State politics. The Low man replied: "Of course it is, but we do it simply because it is absolutely necessary to endorse the existing Tammany ticket. Mr. Low and his friends by nominating their candidates for Assembly will perform in close districts elect Tammany Hall Assemblymen."

It is indicated by the Low man's admissions that the Low man has joined hands with Tammany Hall to elect Assemblymen, as there is not the slightest possibility that the City can elect a single Assemblyman nominated by them.

EARTHQUAKES IN MEXICO.